QUARTERLY ACTIVITIES REPORT – 3 MONTHS ENDED 31 MARCH 2015

Ikwezi Mining Limited (ASX: IKW, Ikwezi Mining or Company).

Thermal coal markets

Thermal coal prices remained depressed during the quarter as the global market remains over supplied despite the anticipated seasonal pick-up in demand. Whilst some of the bigger thermal coal producers have taken steps to rationalise production, it will take some time for the overall market to stabilise and forecast prices appear intent on remaining static in the short to medium term. Current local market conditions and costly take or pay obligations make it more expensive for mines to shut down and a number of mines continue to operate at a loss. This is hampering a return to tighter conditions. At the same time, export market pricing remains challenging for South African producers despite the depreciation of the Rand against the USD. Whilst a number of mines continue to operate at a loss, there has been a reduction in overall production volumes and this has increased the availability of both trucking and mining fleets. This availability has resulted in the rationalisation and reduction in production and logistics costs. Further underutilisation of rail contracts has forced rail operators to review their pricing models which have also reduced during the first quarter.

Finance and project status update

The Company had A$3.764m cash on hand as at 31st March 2015.

The Company announced a fully under-written renounceable entitlement issue to raise $4,065m in late December 2014. The issue closed during January 2015 and shares were issued in respect of acceptances for $2,015m with the balance of the shortfall shares allotted during the quarter.

Further plans have been put into place to improve the geological information on two potential additional opencast areas in the northern part of the Ntendeka collieries mining right and drilling work is due to commence in the second quarter. This will add flexibility to our production plans with the updated areas expected to have lower strip ratios than the current scheduled open cast operations. This will provide the Company with more streamlined and profitable opportunities to target our resources better.

Overheads remain at a minimum and management continues to control these on an ongoing basis. These costs are expected to increase in line with start-up of operations.

Summary

Subsequent to the completion of the renounceable entitlement offer completed during the quarter, Ikwezi is now in the position to ready itself to commence mining operations, subject to market conditions.

We would like to thank our shareholders for their continued support of the Company which is greatly appreciated.
